

Prediction Challenge

The notebook called intoToBA2.ipynb contains our solutions for the prediction part of the challenge assignment.

Exploratory Component

The other notebooks included in the file pertain to the exploratory portion of the challenge. Our question which we have thus far tried to explore is, what phenomena is behind the pollution of a city. We are currently trying to answer this question via a geographical approach, transportation/ logistic approach, and economical/ social approach. Each notebook included will focus on one of these themes.
